HOCKING SENTINEL

LEWIS GREEN, Proprietor

Thursday, Sept. 30, 1897.

Supplement.

We give our readers this week a supplement sheet with good Democratic politics, and interesting business advertising.

The subscription list is increasing each week, and the advertising crowding our columns. The public have confidence in the SENTINEL and its increasing patronage is proof of it.

The SENTINEL sends out this week two thousand papers to Democratic subscribers in Hocking county. The business men of our town appreciate the fact, and crowd our columns with their interesting advertisements. The SENTINEL support is from the Democracy who are Democrats from principle. They are good men to have whether as customers at a store or voters at a primary.

It is told us that our esteemed contemporary, McKay, is about to retire from editorial work on the Sands-Rempel Journal-Gazette and take the field as a song singer. The management of great enterprises, the circus even with its side shows, disposes of its help and puts the fellows where they belong. If it is found that McKay, or any other assumed editor is better suited to sing doggerel song or drive a wagon, or it costs less to pay his expenses out in the country than to feed him off the Court House, the fellow is given his place. McKay is not only a fine singer, but he is a song writer. He can and does write songs for all the clubs. Tom Workman's colored club, being the latest addition to his "Repertoire." We shall miss Bro McKay from the editorial circle. But he is as harmless as a singer as he was as a writer, and besides, no body will question his party fidelity in the music line. There is no politics in a brass band nor a glee club, and it may be that Bro. McKay with his soul stirring voice and Hulsborn with his ear-piercing bugle, may be in our service with the band before the campaign is over. It is a matter of record that the music of campaigns is paid for in no partisan cash.

This is about the time for the statesman from Coon Hollow and Possum Ridge to get in his work on the political committees. The new committees have always to be startled with the old lies, which are jokes to the old timers. The committee is told, This man and That man is not in line. The confidential information is given that treason is in the camp, that something must be done to prevent great disaster to the ticket. The word goes to the committee that the old "reliable" is off, and must be seen. This means trouble to the discoverer. Then the word goes out that Tom, Dick and Harry are fighting the ticket. This is the game of the opposition to create distrust, and excite suspicion. The chances are ten to one, that the fellow who comes to either party with a tale of suspicion on his political associate is a fraud, is not true to his own party, is not true to anybody, and has been hired to work up a distrust among honest going men. When a committee hears a story of great gains coming to the party, or is told that important men of character are betraying the party, it is a good time for committees to stop and inquire, before giving much heed to the political tramp, and the constitutional liar. Honest men treat honest men honorably. When the tramp comes along and says one of our old citizens is a thief, one of our old Republicans has betrayed his party, we don't believe him. Men change their views, men change from one party to another. This is all right, but the man who does things, and who is important to any party, don't delay for the boulder and liar and sneak to be the one to mention it. As we said, this is the reason when the sneak tries to get in his work, and get his boodle. He assumes to know lots, but knows nothing. He can profess much. What can he do? What has he done? This is a good year for both parties to measure up frauds, and dispose of them. We have a straight fight in Hocking this year. It is the Democratic and Republican party on a contest for control of public offices and a supremacy of political principles. The Democrats have a majority in this county of from four to six hundred. The matter for us Democrats to do, is to go to the election. Those Republicans who will vote with us need no speeches nor songs to convert them. The Democrats, if any such there be, who are not with us in heart and principle, can not be effected by a brass band. With 2500 Democratic votes polled at the next election, and we elect every man on the ticket. Every Democrat should see to it that his Democratic neighbor gets to the election. Don't bother with Republicans.

This is about the time when we hear that Republicans are deserting their party, and that Democrats are not true to their ticket. It is an old game played generally to catch suckers. There is not a Democrat in Hocking county who will not support his ticket. If there is such a one let him announce his name, and we will publish it. If he is not a coward, he won't be afraid to come out in the open.

The Republicans, and there are lots of them who will vote with us on the silver question, don't need to be nursed, nor pestered, nor bought. The thing for all good Democrats to do is to get out our own vote.

Prosecuting Attorney Pettit.

The term of court about closing, is the first occasion in which Mr. Pettit has had duty in the line of his office as the attorney for the State, for the People, in the enforcement of the law against those, not in the peace of the state.

Mr. Pettit has acquitted himself with distinguished ability, and commendable zeal. He has stood for the good people as against the criminal class, and he has brought deserved punishment upon the violators of law and the enemies of good society.

His indictments prepared upon the findings of the grand jury, have stood the test, as law papers, from the closest scrutiny of the ablest attorneys of our Bar, who are the peers of any in Ohio.

The cases he brought into open court he tried to an exceptionally intelligent jury, and in the trial of his cases, he had in most instances, the best talent of the Logan bar against him.

In this test of the legal ability, in the issue "good sense" which is the measure with the jury, he comes out of all the encounters, with colors flying, honors well won.

He has won every case. He has succeeded in sending seven indicted criminals to the Penitentiary, and six outlaws to the Work-house. He has cleaned up the county from a class of evil doers, disturbers, and has put up the signals in every locality that prosecution follows quick upon crime, and that the peace of the state shall be maintained.

The Colored Men's Declaration Of Independence.

Ever since the war the colored men of Ohio have voted, almost solidly, the Republican ticket.

The negro vote in Ohio for the last twenty-five years, has made Ohio a Republican state. A majority of the white voters in Ohio have always been Democratic.

A significant sign of the times is a revolt from Republican rule by the intelligent negroes of our state, and they have in state convention put a colored man's ticket in the field. This ticket will not be elected, but it will give the colored men as the Populists and Prohibitionists, and other like side shows heretofore attached to the Republican party, an opportunity of showing just what they amount to.

We don't expect the colored vote. For thirty years it has been against us. Office seekers, gangsters, political gamblers, have played the Durkay. We didn't and we won't.

The Democratic party is better and above all these incidents. Our party opens wide doors for all to come in, but the political tramp must undertake to take charge of the table where he is fed, or if he does the Democratic spirit will revolt.

The colored people have been the bawlers of wood, the drawers of water and the sold voters of the Republican party for many long years.

They have got nothing. Now they kick. It is a good time.

If Tom Workman will vote the Ward township niggers for us, as he has heretofore voted them for gold, Linkum, liberty and salvation and the Lord knows what not else, why Tom will be with his people, and Tom will still be a statesman.

LIBERTY! LIBERTY!

The Prohibition Ticket.

The Prohibitionists met last Saturday in the office of Dr. Dollison, proprietor of the Ohio Democrat, and nominated the following ticket:

For Sheriff—C. S. Cox of Green Tp.

For Commissioner—W. H. Brown of Good Hope township.

For Infirmary Director—Thos. E. James of Logan.

No candidate was named for representative, but a committee of conference was appointed to meet with the Vinton county Prohibitionists, and upon such agreement as can be made, farther action will be had.

Democratic Meeting.

The Opera House was filled with an intelligent audience on last Thursday night, to hear the opening speech of the campaign.

It was advertised that Allen O. Myers would make the speech and the crowd was disappointed that he did not come. Mr. Myers was called to Cincinnati on account of sickness in his family, and Cap. Ross of Tennessee was substituted.

Cap. Ross campaigned in the Valley three years ago, in the interest of Mr. Crawford, the Populist candidate for congress in this district. Cap. Ross is a fusion Populist, and is working in line with the Democracy at this time.

His speech was not up to the expectation of the Democrats, generally, but was acceptable as a fusion effort, made in good faith, we hope, as efforts in that direction must now be so considered.

He discussed the current issues, and denounced Coxey, who he claims is an agent of Hanna.

Cap. Ross being a Populist, has perhaps the best reasons for knowing how leading Populists stand.

The glee club gave a pleasant song and the band entertained the company with good music.

Our Expedition.

We had hoped to start our Hanna-rugrats this week on a pilgrimage to the political grave yard of the late honest official, Lewis Spurrier, but we have not got Dr. Moore, who was a chief scalper of our old friend, down exactly on the reasons why he was thus cruel to the second term candidate. There is a rumor that Spurrier cut Dr. Moore's bills in two or whittled them down to a size of other doctors, and for this, he got the back lick. We shall see later.

Organize! Organize!

The Democracy of our county should at once begin the local organization in townships and school districts. The success of our ticket this fall depends on getting out the Democratic vote. The Democratic party lives on a principle that is always an issue.

The candidates are our standard bearers for the season. The committee is the managing mind of the present fight. Every Democrat should stand by his candidate, and give his hearty support to his committee. By doing this the strength of the party is preserved, not only this year, but in the campaigns to come, as the years go on.

The party will live. The Democrats who do not do their duty in this campaign, will not be counted in the next. Let candidates and committees and all Democrats work together in effecting an organization.

Then see to it that every Democrat comes to the polls. The election in Hocking and in Ohio is in our hands.

Let us organize at once and then work to get our vote to the election. Three campaign liars is coming forward. Let the information concerning "Bolting Democrats" the kickers in "Coon Hollow" be told in the committee rooms, not discussed on the street. The honest democrat who has honest facts of party interest, should go to the committee and not hold conventions on the street for the edification of Republican, who generally start all the stories to distract Democrats.

Mr. TUCKER, our nominee for Infirmary Director got the almost solid vote of his home township. This is indorsement sufficient to satisfy every democrat that he is the man entitled to a solid vote of our party.

John Smith once stood back for John Gallagher, Gallagher's friends did not forget this. He stood aside last year for Jacoby. This gentlemen's friends, will not forget him.

CHARLEY BRANDT is a hard working young farmer. He is one of the best young men of our county. He will be our next sheriff.

UNCLE DAN SHRIVER, the able veteran editor of the Laurelville Record since he has swung his "Independent" paper into the Mark Hanna brigade and declared for the Republican candidate for sheriff is as cackley as a pullet over the first egg. Uncle Dan, when he comes into the political cock pit, and makes a fight on Democratic candidates, must take the chances of getting his cochen china neutral feathers plucked and his independent pretensions picked.

Support the Republican ticket out in broad day light. Don't quarrel round as an "Independent," but keep in mind this, that whether as a regular Republican, or as a spy or Independent guerilla, fighting the Democracy you are liable to be looked after.

Politics, Uncle Dan, is the domain of the political papers.

When an Independent paper enters the Ring, we notice him closely and want to know the wherefore, the whiffness of the thud.

Why are you for sheriff and not for the whole ticket.

Gov. Foster was in the city on last Saturday, and had a very cordial reception from his many personal friends.

In the afternoon the governor delivered a lecture on the general operations of the Treasury Department and other matter connected with the banking business, as conducted by our government.

The word had gone out that Gov. Foster would address a Republican meeting.

This had the bad effect to keep many people from the Hall. Col. Ed Davenport, who is an ennumerator, tells us the audience, by actual count was 174. At least 100 of these went to hear the lecture. The others are candidates or intending candidates on some of the side show tickets.

This is not a campaign of much speech making, as compared with last year. Every democrat who voted for Bryan will vote the democratic ticket at the coming election. No speech, like old Hard Times, will bring a Republican to his senses. This is a campaign, in which the work of the committee, in getting out the vote tells.

The Democratic Executive Committee of our county has begun the work of organizing the county.

The campaign work will be pushed with vigor. All democrats should give every possible assistance in helping the committee to secure a full vote at the election.

"There is no escape from the bondage in which the Republicans are now held unless they vote the Democratic ticket this fall."

Mark Hanna's nomination is an insult to American labor, and every laboring man should vote against him."—A. L. Conger, to his Republican friends.

WHEN you go to the polls November 2nd, don't forget that W. S. Tucker will make the best Infirmary Director.

HAVE your vote counted for John W. Smith for Commissioner.

OUR next representative will be Milton S. Cox of Vinton.

VOTE for Chas. F. Brant for sheriff Nov. 2nd.

"CROW, CHAPMAN, CROW"

The nomination by the Ohio Democrats of Horace L. Chapman for governor calls to mind the above expression, which is said to have been the origin of the use of the crowing rooster as an emblem of a Democratic victory at the polls. Some time in the 50's the Indianapolis Sentinel, the Democratic organ of the Indiana Democracy, was owned and edited by George A. and Jacob P. Chapman. As the story goes, on the flagstaff of the Sentinel office was placed a large weathercock to indicate which way the wind was blowing. After an election in which the Democrats of the state had been successful, a friend in writing to congratulate the editors on the effective work they had done during the campaign, added: "Crow, Chapman, Crow!" alluding to the rooster on the flagstaff. After that, "Crow, Chapman, Crow!" became the Democratic slogan, and finally resulted in the adoption by the symbol of the Democratic party—Madison County Democrat.

Governor Hanna's man Friday, is now opposed to "too much government by the nation." Last year this same cheap, frothy politician raved and tore his hair over the Chicago platform and its attacks upon the courts.

The Democratic and free silver campaign opened September 23, the anniversary of the 22d of September, 1789, when Van Wert, Williams and Paulding refused to take $50,000 in British gold to carry out the first "international agreement" and betray their country.

Horace L. Chapman, the Democratic candidate for governor, is making friends wherever he goes. He is a business man with an unblemished record for square dealing. He favored paying the miners the wages they demanded to live on. Hanna opposed it.

OHIO BANKERS.

Comptroller Eckles Gives Their Snap Away

IN HIS SPEECH AT TOLEDO.

He Says Banks Are Run For Profit, and Admiration Which No Philanthropist (7) Banker Has Ever Conceded.

The Ohio Bankers' association recently met at Toledo and went through the usual performances on such occasions. Essays were read and addresses made, interspersed with banquets, toasts, free rides by land and water, etc., etc.

After jollifying each other and being jollied by others, the association elected officers, passed a string of resolutions and adjourned to meet next year to crack a few more cold bottles and see what could be done in the interest of the hard-working banker.

Comptroller Eckles, in one of his reports, makes the astonishing statement that "Banks are not economically institutions, and therefore engage only in that which promises a margin of profit." A team of oxen could not drag such an admission out of a banker, for is it not well known that they are engaged in the business purely for the accommodation of the public? Having strong and secure vaults, they receive one man's money, which they loan to another at just sufficient to cover the margin of expense connected with its handling, and are always prepared to return it to the first man, except at times of stress and on occasions when he is most in need of it, when in the interest of the public generally and in order that he may not squander it, they give him their notes in the form of clearing house certificates. In line with this well known policy of bankers to always keep a watchful eye and ward over the interests of the public, the Ohio Bankers' association, before adjourning, passed some resolutions that require attention in order that the great untutored masses may know what their good financial guardians think should be done for the aforesaid G. U. M.

First, the Ohio bankers believe in the maintenance of a dollar that shall be as good as gold, and in the commerce of the world, and in a wise and judicious reform of the currency system of the country, and favor the appointment of a committee to consider this question. Just what is the matter with the currency of the country the bankers fail to state, but, doubtless, it is that there is too little of it, and what there is too easily cornered and locked up by the New York manipulators when they deem it proper to squeeze the people.

The last suggestion may not have been considered one of weight, but the first, that there is not enough currency, evidently was, for in another resolution these bankers resolve, "That we most respectfully declare it to be our opinion that it would benefit the business of the country, as well as the national banks, if the government would issue to the said national banks circulating notes for the full value of the bonds deposited to secure their circulating notes."

There is a becoming modesty about this resolution that shows the Ohio bankers to be made of the right stuff. "They most respectfully declare it to be their opinion that, but having the good of the country at heart they submit the suggestion that the banks ought to be allowed to issue more currency to loan at 8 per cent per annum to all who have approved collateral. As banks have to be run, and risk of supplying the people with 10 per cent more funds at high interest would be undertaken if congress should see fit to authorize them to do it."

The next resolution adds strength and conclusiveness to the assertion that the Ohio bankers are not only public benefactors, but are well versed and intelligent gentlemen who are thoroughly au courant with the legislation of their country. It reads in this wise: "Resolved, That they approve of the act of congress which declares it to be the duty of the government to maintain on a parity of gold all the money issued by the authority of any law of congress."

Some may cavil with this and assert that there is no such act of congress; that while congress has done many other things, it has not done that; but these it is only necessary to reply that the St. Louis convention which nominated McKinley declared "All our silver and paper currency must be maintained at parity with gold," and Mark Hanna has discovered what the bankers and others have long believed, that the Ohio bankers are a Republican. This being true, the declarations of the Republicans are the revelations of Providence. A certain school of philosophers teach "that whatever is to be, is," so the bankers of Ohio are justified in speaking of something which congress has never done, but which the Republican party has pledged it will do as "an act of congress."

The remaining resolution stands, however, without an equal, both for its depth of sentiment, clearness of expression and beauty of diction. It is: "Resolved, That we declare that congress had it in mind to pass a law reducing a tax on the national bank circulation to rate per cent not more than will pay the expenses of issuing the same." Anyone who will assert that congress "hadn't oughter" do any such thing will be flayed by us, and anyone referring to the "oughtness" of this measure will be put out of the game.

Query—Do the bankers think the people of Ohio are such fools that they won't see through the schemes of these agents of the money power to secure greater advantages for themselves and to more firmly fasten a nefarious system on the coming generation?

The men who locked the money of their depositors in their vaults in 1893 and refused to pay it to the creditors on demand, and who in 1896 threatened their debtors with foreclosure and sale if they voted for Bryan, will have a hard time convincing the public that they are such public benefactors that they should be granted increased privileges or greater immunities through legislation.

COXEY'S MASK THROWN OFF.

The mask was thrown off of Jacob S. Coxey at Mansfield, and in the light of circumstances there is no longer doubt as to whom Coxey is in the employ of. Chairman Kaffer issued a call for a Populist mass meeting at Mansfield for Monday, September 13. The meeting was simply attended, but those who were there were representative Populists of the county. Coxey was called on for a speech and devoted nearly his entire attention to denouncing Chapman and the Democratic party, but had not one word of complaint against Mark Hanna, his boodie methods, or the Republican party. After he kept up his tirade against the Democrats for some time, W. T. Geitz, a prominent business man, and A. W. Myers, a one-time candidate for representative on the Populist ticket in Richland county, arose and asked Coxey why he only directed his abuse to the Democrats, and not to Mark Hanna and the Republicans. Of course, Coxey could not make an answer to this question, and then both Mr. Geitz and Mr. Myers, together with other Populists, arose and told Coxey in open convention they would not vote for him, but would support the Democratic nominees, for the manner in which he conducted his campaign smacked very much as if he knew more about the Mark Hanna deal than he warranted his followers to know. Every man has a perfect right to his own political views, but Mr. Coxey must produce better evidence than he has shown since his nomination to convince voters of this state that he is not working in the interests of Mark Hanna.

HANNA'S BOLD GAME.

The esteemed Commercial has a hard time of it being even ordinarily consistent for a Republican organ. In this morning's issue the Commercial says editorially:

"It is to the everlasting credit of Mark Hanna that in this campaign of abuse and vilification, his bitterest enemy has not been able to make one charge against him that reflects upon his honor or his character as a high-minded, upright citizen."

Now that, taken by itself, reads very well in a Republican organ of the Commercial's caliber. But the editorial immediately preceding it reads very much the other way. It makes a grave charge against Hanna that ought to be investigated, coming as it does from such a strong Republican source. Here it is:

"Hanna's paid agents are preparing to wage the best box in our most exposed places. The attempts will be made wherever the people are the most honest and unsuspecting. Citizens, be on your guard."

Democrats all over the state should heed this warning, for it comes from a Republican newspaper in which Senator Hanna has a special interest. If Senator Hanna is going to rape the ballot box it is indeed important that citizens be on their guard.—Toledo Bee.

AS LAWYERS VIEW IT.

Hanna's local organ should read what the Ohio Legal News, the official and favorite journal of the lawyers, said editorially in its last issue about "Government by injunction." Should some of the free silver newspapers of Ohio denounce government by injunction as vigorously as the Ohio Legal News does they would be accused of anarchy and treason. Read what the News says:

"The government by injunction is the most absolute despotism and the most flagrant usurpation known to organized society. The power of the Federal judges, as construed by themselves, is greater than the constitution or the fundamental rights of man. IT SUSPENDS THE FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND OF THE PRESS. IT DESTROYS INDIVIDUAL LIBERTY. IT EXCEEDS IN PRETENSIONS AND IN PERFORMANCE THE EXPLODED DOCTRINE OF THE DIVINE RIGHT OF KINGS. NO GREATER MENACE TO OUR LIBERTIES COULD BE DEvised THAN THE FEDERAL JUDGES' ARBITRARY ASSUMPTION OF OMNIPOTENCE AND INFALLIBILITY."

Horace L. Chapman, the Democratic candidate for governor, is a plain, honest, unassuming man. He is a man of the people. The only charge his enemies have successfully made against him is that he is a Democrat and is in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver and against government by injunction.

Horace L. Chapman never had a strike in all the years he has employed labor. Hanna never had anything else.

"Gov. Bushnell, George B. Cox and Mark Hanna have made an alliance offensive and beneficial to throw down Foraker, Kurtz & Co."—Editorial Toledo Commercial (Bus.), Sept. 16.

Governor Bushnell, George B. Cox and Mark Hanna have made an alliance offensive and beneficial to throw down Foraker, Kurtz & Co.

Progressive Democrats joined the Republican party and saved the Union. Honest Republicans should join the Democratic party and save the republic.
